

Liquid Compounds

Our ancient herbal ancestors, the Sumerians, Chinese and Native American Indians, had various methods of infusing herbs and their active constituents into liquid medicines. Inno-Vita® as borrowed from the past and perfected for the future, to develop the Liquid Compounds of today.

Isn't it enough that an alternative medicine is effective?

No! Wise practitioners will not risk the success of their clinic and the loyalty of their clients by investing in products that could cause more harm than good. More and more practitioners are turning to Inno-Vita to avoid the potentially harmful effects of formulas which contain animal by-products. Other professional lines in both capsule and liquid form may also contain the same hormones, vaccines, steroids, antibiotics and diseases carried by the animals as found in the farming process. In fact, these dangerous factors are the first to assimilate into the menstruum, (liquid solvent for herbal extraction).

Why Inno-Vita Liquid Compounds?

Completely free of all animal and human by-products, our Inno-Vita Liquid compounds were created to provide you more delivery methods for your clients. In order to maintain the unique qualities of the capsule formulas, substantial research was devoted to protecting the Inno-Vita FormCode. (FormCodes: the combinations of amino acids based on the genetic sequences of specific healthy human organs & systems).

The Innovation of Fusing Energy, Science & Nature

Inno-Vita has not only met but exceeded the highest expectations of liquid extracts by developing its own 'Triple Extraction Process'. In order to derive the full spectrum of active components and to fully protect the FormCodes, the 'Triple Extraction Process' utilizes three-phases:

The Triple Extraction Process

- Phase one begins with a timed extraction using the highest quality of finely ground herbs placed within a certified organic grain alcohol. In addition to extracting the formulas active constituents, this pure grain alcohol functions as a natural preservative avoiding the need for fungicide or irradiation and lends to a long shelf life of approximately 2-3 years from the date of purchase.
- Phase two borrows from the ancient Chinese method of steeping the herbs in boiling hot water until a desired strength is achieved. This process is especially important to derive the active constituents from roots, bark and other more fibrous materials. Water used in this process is derived from the nearby Ben Lomond Mountain of the Wasatch Mountain range (altitude 9,700). This water is derived from a cold year-round artesian spring of naturally filtered water with a balance of rich minerals void of unwanted chemicals.
- Phase three recognizes the significant healing effects of lignin and polymerized compounds in medicinal plants and that they can only be extracted in a carefully-prepared acidic solution. Other manufacturers of liquid extracts and tinctures omit this extraction process, but Inno-Vita recognizes that this modern process is critical to the effectiveness of the Inno-Vita Liquid Compounds.

Each one ounce bottle of Inno-Vita Liquid Compounds are ethically crafted and ethically priced. Additionally, these look, smell, and naturally disperse better than other products which contain animal by-products.
